Did You Know?

“For the first reliable fountain that brought running water into the heart of Siena, an Italian city high in the hills, the artist Jacopo della Quercia (d.1438) sculpted Mary, the Mother of God, holding the Christ child. They are surrounded by the figures representing Wisdom, Hope, Fortitude, Prudence, Justice, Humility, Temperance, and Faith, bounded at its far ends by women with children, symbolizing earthly and divine Charity. It is as if these virtues of the believer’s life flow from or out of the refreshing and life-giving waters of revelation given in Jesus by his mother, our mother Mary, symbol of the Church itself, all held and contained by the love of God.”

Pastoral Notes by Fr. Edmund Rich Towards God

In the gospel today, Jesus reminds us of the responsibility of being or becoming rich. Jesus warns His listeners about the dangerous tendency to constantly desire for more inherent in our increasingly materialistic society.

Jesus reminds us, through the rich man in the gospel story, “How hard it is for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God!... It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of the needle than for one who is rich to enter the kingdom of God!” Jesus also assures us “there is no one who has given up house or brother or sisters or mother or father or children or lands for His sake and the gospel who will not receive in the present age a hundredfold of what they give up with persecutions and eternal life in the age to come.”

This parable teaches us that life is not all about the abundance of the things we possess. In ancient Mediterranean society, everything exists in a limited supply that has been already distributed. Anyone who experiences sudden increase in income even unintentionally is thought to be taking what does not belong to him and is considered a thief. This thievery creates a needful person. St. Jerome in his commentary on Jeremiah says: “Every rich person is a thief or an heir of a thief.” The things that one does not use belong to those who need them. Justice requires that everyone gets what he requires for a decent life.

The parable polarizes the passion to accumulate wealth against becoming rich towards God. It passes the verdict on a life dedicated among other things to the pursuit of material wealth. The parable demonstrates the absurdity of a life programmed on the desire to acquire resources one cannot retain or even fully enjoy. The judgment passed by the gospel parable on a life based on wealth is the same as the judgment of the Book of Ecclesiastes on life in general: vanity of vanities.

The philosopher William James expresses this gospel wisdom by declaring: “The best use of life is to spend it for something that outlasts life.” We have to live for the future, that is, for eternal life because we shall spend the rest of our days there.

Flourishing Congregations Survey...

Imagine if all churches could be strengthened across Canada, ours included. Our congregation has partnered with the Flourishing Congregations Institute to be part of this transformation, and we would like your help! Please take 20 minutes to fill out an anonymous national online survey at <https://tinyurl.com/fc087c>. We hope for 50% or more of our adult attenders to fill out the 20 minute survey. With strong survey involvement, we will access data unique to our congregation/parish. Fill out the survey in the next month and be entered into a draw for one of five $50 Amazon gift cards. To learn more about the survey, the larger project, and many of the anticipated benefits to arise, visit www.flourishingcongregations.org/national-survey. Healing Corner. "For human beings it is impossible, but not for God. All things are possible for God." Being abused can be the most traumatic times of our lives. We are not able to manage on our own so it is the time to call on God. Trust that God knows more about what way that is best for us to escape these situations and make a better life for ourselves and our children. He is always there to carry us in times of need and comfort us in times of despair. Of course we also need to take some steps ourselves and reach out to resources that work with abused women and children. We have our work to do and God can guide us, making the impossible possible. Remember to call Connect at 403-237-5888 for a list of shelters and resources, or check out their website at www.connectnetwork.ca for more information.
