“Baptismal fonts come in varying shapes suggesting different effects. For example: there are cross-shaped fonts suggesting that the one being baptized is joined to the Death of the Lord on the Cross; rounded fonts to suggest the womb of mother Church giving birth to God’s adopted children; there are octagonal fonts to suggest the “eighth day” of the Resurrection and our new creation; square fonts to suggest that Baptism is the door to new life; and rectangular fonts suggesting a tomb in which we die with Christ to sin.” Our own font at St. James Church is a in the shape of a footprint to signify walking in Jesus’ footsteps bringing light into the world.

Pastoral Notes by Fr. Edmund
The Lord's Baptism

The Lord's baptism, which we celebrate today, is symbolic of the Father's approval of His Son's ministry of preaching the good News of Salvation that would culminate in His passion, death and resurrection. When Christ submitted Himself to be baptized by John in the Jordan River, God's stamp of approval was executed by the symbolism of a dove and a voice from above which said, "This is my Beloved Son, with Whom I am well pleased."

From the scene of the baptism of Jesus, we learn this important lesson: the only thing that really matters is to hear God tell us: "You are my beloved Son. On you my favor rests." Once we really believe this, we can face the unknown with a peaceful heart. As it is said: "We don't know what the future holds, but we know who holds the future."

The celebration of the Lord's baptism makes us reflect on the need to ask God to consider or approve what we plan to do with our respective lives. It speaks of the need to submit ourselves and our decisions to God's clearance. It makes us consider seriously the need to get God's opinion on what we undertake or do on a daily basis, giving our life and acts a kind of stamp of approval from the Almighty Father. What does God think or feel about what I am doing? If Christ would have to do the things I am concerned with, how would He go about them? These are questions that are disturbing enough to make us reflect on how much we really mean when we pray on a daily basis "thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven".

The Lord's baptism demonstrates that His approach is perfectly personal and realistic which we have to emulate. Our personal desire to ask God what He thinks or feels about our life and acts is the beginning of an authentic, personal spirituality that can be a solid basis for our life as a Christian and as a member of our faith community. Our daily dialogue with God has to deal with the things that are deep within our hearts including our faults and frustrations. The sacraments and the other rites of our respective religions can be formal and solemn opportunities for such an ongoing personal dialogue. In the last analysis, our personal approach to God becomes the basis of our religion of our attitude towards people, events and things. Our coming to worship becomes more meaningful when it is the result of our deep personal relationship with our Savior. Institutional religion cannot produce or induce this personal aspect of our faith without our own individual effort to encounter Christ in our daily experience.

Healing Corner. In Corinthians 12, Paul compares the church to a human body where all parts are necessary to make the body complete. In many ways a community functions the same way. Think about those in your church or in your community who may not feel included. Bring one such person to mind. What is one thing you can do as a congregation or community member to help that person feel included? "God, give me the strength and courage to risk reaching out to someone who I know does not feel included in our community. Be with me in case my friendship is rejected. Hold me in the palm of Your hand."

Sacrament of Confirmation
Parent Information and Registration
Sunday, January 13 at 2:00pm

Please bring a copy of your child's baptism certificate if he/she was not baptized at St. James. Registration is $25. Classes will run on Sundays from 2:00-3:30pm according to the schedule that will be provided. This is a parent/child program so a parent or guardian must attend with their child. Classes begin January 20. The Sacrament of Confirmation is open to students who are in grade 6 or higher and have received Baptism, First Communion and Reconciliation.

Please pray for:

Pauline Miller, Aidan Hanes, Harry Piet, Laz Terek,
