GOSPEL REFLECTION

As we near the end of the liturgical year, we start to hear the messages we need at the end of things. Jesus is preparing us to enter Paradise, but our understanding falls short of God's way. The feast metaphor and -- in favour of the outcasts -- the rejection of those who had believed themselves the ones worthy can be profoundly troubling to those of us who believe and are working hard to be faithful. Perhaps Paul's reminder in the second reading provides a key: God will supply all the glory we need, according to His wealth, according to His will. There is certainly pain, injustice and poverty in this life; it would be spiritual abuse to deny this. As we follow Jesus, there is a freedom that emerges right within earthly suffering, allowing us to glimpse, taste and touch eternity even here. This is not a justification for the wealthy to hoard, or for the privileged to turn a blind eye to suffering. All are called to set the captives free and be part of whatever liberation God desires to work through us. It is, however, a reminder that the Kingdom of Heaven begins in this life to the extent that Jesus transforms us. There is no circumstance God cannot reach into. Where are our attitudes, excuses, or rejections which block Him from transforming us and our world?

SAINT OF THE WEEK

FEAST DAY OCTOBER 11

ST. JOHN XXIII

THE DAILY DECALOGUE OF POPE JOHN XXIII

- 1) Only for today, I will seek to live the livelong day positively without wishing to solve the problems of my life all at once.
- 2) Only for today, I will take the greatest care of my appearance: I will dress modestly; I will not raise my voice; I will be courteous in my behaviour; I will not criticize anyone; I will not claim to improve or to discipline anyone except myself.
- 3) Only for today, I will be happy in the certainty that I was created to be happy, not only in the other world but also in this one.
- 4) Only for today, I will adapt to circumstances, without requiring all circumstances to be adapted to my own wishes.
- 5) Only for today, I will devote 10 minutes of my time to some good reading, remembering that just as food is necessary to the life of the body, so good reading is necessary to the life of the soul.
- 6) Only for today, I will do one good deed and not tell anyone about it.
- 7) Only for today, I will do at least one thing I do not like doing; and if my feelings are hurt, I will make sure that no one notices.
- 8) Only for today, I will make a plan for myself: I may not follow it to the letter, but I will make it. And I will be on guard against two evils: hastiness and indecision.
- 9) Only for today, I will firmly believe, despite appearances, that the good Providence of God cares for me as no one else who exists in this world.
- 10) Only for today, I will have no fears. In particular, I will not be afraid to enjoy what is beautiful and to believe in goodness. Indeed, for 12 hours I can certainly do what might cause me consternation were I to believe I had to do it all my life.

HOLY FATHER AND VATICAN

NEW ENCYCLICAL FRATELLI TUTTI

On the conclusion of the recitation of the Angelus on Sunday, Pope Francis introduced his new Encyclical Fratelli tutti. "Yesterday I was in Assisi to sign the new encyclical, Fratelli tutti, on fraternity and social friendship. I offered it to God on the tomb of Saint Francis who inspired as in the preceding Encyclical Laudato si'."

Fraternity and social friendship are the ways the Pontiff indicates to build a better, more just and peaceful world, with the contribution of all: people and institutions. With an emphatic confirmation of a 'no' to war and to globalized indifference.
