The Shepherd Speaks—Fr. Eli Canete

In the Gospel story this weekend, we see how Jesus put things into a quite unique perspective. For Jesus, what truly matters is not what is exterior, but what lies within the heart. This, of course, is why Jesus praises the poor widow so lavishly. They have all put in money they had over, but she from the little she had has put in everything she possessed, all she had to live on.

The worshipers calmly entered the temple, depositing their donations into the treasury near the door. Sitting in a chair nearby, Jesus noted the amounts of money each dropped into the treasury. Then, he called the twelve over to share His insights about the wealthy and the poor, the big checks, and the small coins.

One person had deeply impressed Jesus, a poor widow who had given him a mere pittance, compared to most of the others. No doubt, Jesus prefaced His remarks with the reminder that He was not condemning the big gifts by praising the small ones.

That would have been foolish, for the temple needed large donations to continue as a place of worship. Although, the widow gave only two paltry coins, worth but a few cents, Jesus was impressed.

Jesus praised her because it was a high percentage gift. The others, He said, gave from their surplus wealth but she gave from her want. The wealthy gave a tiny fraction of what they possessed, but she gave everything she had.

The value of the gift was nothing, but Jesus saw the value of the giver. Today, many people feel that money is a forbidden topic in the pulpit, which is unspiritual and unworthy to be associated with worship services. Some even say, that is why they avoid church. However, Jesus saw no conflict between scrutinizing the collection basket and preaching the Kingdom of God.

How much money does it cost? Is a phrase continually on our minds and lips? The cost of maintaining the Church and its needs is a heavy and challenging task and mission that we all share.

And I do say, thank you for all your help and assistance. God sees your noble intentions and God continues to bless you that you continue to also become a blessing to others. I do not see this Gospel as trying to embarrass the rich to donate more to Church and charity but as a call for each one of us, a call for all of us to be generous.

Being poor and less in life does not absolve one from this. Two small coins are very pleasing to God if that is all we can afford. Regardless of the amount, each should make some offering, and it will be valuable if it flows from a spirit of sincere generosity.

The story of the poor widow is meant to spark a conversion of the heart. It is a significant risk to surrender everything of value. But, when we surrender to a Merciful God, it is called trust.

2021-2023 Synod Walking Together As the Church

Pope Francis has convoked the whole Church to embark on a two-year journey of encountering, listening and discerning whether we, the Christian community, embody Jesus' walking with us, which is both a gift and a task.

The XVI Ordinary General Assembly of the Synod of Bishops in 2023 on the themes of Communion, Participation and Mission has begun with the listening phase of the synodal process in all local Churches from October 2021 to April 2022.

Bishop William McGrattan calls on all faithful, clergy and religious of the Diocese of Calgary to join him in this important journey of local gatherings in parishes, committees and ministry groups, lay associations, religious communities, Catholic schools and online participation. Summoned by the Lord Jesus and rooted in the Holy Spirit, together we will listen to answer this fundamental question:

- How is this "journeying together" happening today in our local Church?
- What steps does the Spirit invite us to take in order to grow in our "journeying together"?

More information on the synodal process will be provided in the coming weeks. We mark the opening of the Diocesan phase of the Synod at all the Masses this weekend. Get involved in the Synodal Process. For more information and to sign up for updates on the Synod on Synodality in our Diocese visit catholicyc.ca/synod

Brenda will collect these each week and add them to the book. Please do not write the names in yourself as in previous years. Monetary donations in a loved one's memory can also be made using the same envelopes near the Book of Remembrance.

PLEASE NOTE: If your loved one(s) were already added to the book in previous years, please do not add them again. All names written in the book are remembered at each Mass.
